*Denotes a CCIW championship

Art Keller, '44, Carthage's career coaching leader with a 177-87-7 record in 31 years. Keller won eight CCIW titles, including five straight from 1969 to 1973. Under Keller's leadership, Carthage rattled off six undefeated conference seasons, three 14-game win streaks, and a phenomenal 29-game CCIW unbeaten streak (28-0-1). The CCIW's Outstanding Offensive Player Award is named for Keller, who stands third on the conference's all-time victory ledger with a 105-53-3 mark in his 22 seasons in the league. Keller, who also served as Carthage's athletic director from 1952 to 1982, received a college-division Distinguished Coaching Award from the Football Writers Association of America in 1982, and he was inducted into the Carthage Athletic Hall of Fame in 1984. Also pictured below is Keller's widow, Beverly Keller, shown holding the game ball at Carthage's 1999 homecoming game.

Lewis Omer, Carthage's head football coach (1921-35), head men's basketball coach (1921-29) and athletic director, is credited with originating the Illinois High School Association's state basketball tournament. Omer organized the first tournament in 1908 in Oak Park, Ill., while serving as the Northwestern University men's basketball coach. He was inducted into the Carthage Athletic Hall of Fame in 1985.

J. Arthur Baird, '00, a 1984 posthumous inductee into the Carthage Athletic Hall of Fame, had an athletic career that would raise an eyebrow or two these days in the NCAA. Four years of college eligibility wasn't enough for Baird. His stellar record lasted seven years, including a four-year undergraduate career at Carthage (1896-1900) and a three-year career at Northwestern while pursuing a law degree.

After Baird graduated in 1900, teammate William M. Ruthrauff wrote University of Chicago football coach Alonzo Stagg, trying to interest the legendary coach in letting Baird join the 1900 Maroon football squad. In a return letter to Ruthrauff, Stagg said, "Baird is evidently a good all-around athlete, but I am looking for stars." Indeed.

Undaunted, Ruthrauff's father, Carthage president John M. Ruthrauff, intervened with Northwestern University, and the result was an invitation to Baird to attend law school and play football.

Baird became a star for the Wildcats, the first athlete to letter in three sports in one season: football, baseball and track. He was a punter and offensive guard on the football team and was named Chicago Daily News All-Big 10 as a sophomore. Perhaps to settle a score, Baird also played a significant role in Northwestern's defeat of Chicago during the 1900 season.

In track, he was an outstanding performer in the high jump, the hurdles, the pole vault, and the throwing events. He was a center on Northwestern's first basketball team and a first baseman on the diamond squad.

After receiving his law degree from Northwestern in the spring of 1903, Baird practiced law in Chicago, for the next three years, taking time off in the fall to coach football at Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota, (1903-1905) and at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington, (1906-1907), where his 1907 team reportedly upended the University of Washington.

He was named Carthage athletic director and men's basketball coach in December 1907, added head football duties in the fall of 1908, and baseball responsibilities in 1910. He remained as both basketball and football coach through the end of the 1914 seasons and as baseball coach through 1916.

At the same time, he kept up his law practice and was elected as a judge in Hancock County in 1910. He served one term, returned to private practice, but was elected again in 1934 for a four-year term and re-elected in 1938, 1942, and 1946. Baird retired from the bench when his term expired in 1950, but remained active in the law until he died on July 26, 1964, in Galesburg, Illinois. Baird served as a member of the Carthage Board of Trustees for 40 years (1924-64).

Born on November 2, 1877, on a farm in Carthage Township, he married Georgia Hubbs of New York City on June 23, 1913. Georgia Baird died in October 1917.

The Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association, Carthage's First League From 1912 to 1941, Carthage was a member of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association (IIAA) for football, men's basketball, baseball, men's golf and men's track and field. According to former Illinois State University track and field coach Joe Cogdal, the league had its roots in the 1870s when a number of Illinois schools banded together for oratorical contests. The first intercollegiate football game within this association was played in 1881 between Illinois State and Knox College, and a football association was established for the 1894 season. The IIAA was formed in April 1908 for a May 22 track and field meet with eight charter members, including the Bradley Polytechnic Institute (later Bradley University), Illinois College, Illinois State Normal University (later shortened to Illinois State University), Illinois Wesleyan University, Knox College, Lombard College (now defunct), Millikin University and Monmouth College.

By the 1910-11, the league had expanded to 13 teams with the addition of Eureka College, Hedding College (now defunct), Lincoln College, Shurtleff College (now defunct) and William & Vashti College (now defunct). Four schools were added for the 1912-13 season, including Augustana College (Ill.), Carthage College, Eastern Illinois Normal University (later shortened to Eastern Illinois University) and McKendree College. Southern Illinois Normal University (later re-named Southern Illinois University-Carbondale) became the 18th member during the 1913-14 academic year. Three more schools were added in 1914-15 to boost the membership to 21 schools. Those three were Blackburn College, St. Viator College (now defunct) and Western Illinois Normal University (later shortened to Western Illinois University). William & Vashti closed in 1917 reducing the league to 20 members, but Lake Forest College and Wheaton College (Ill.) joined the circuit in 1919-20 when the league name was changed to the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association (IAC), bringing the membership up to 22 schools.

Several other schools joined in the 1920s, including Mount Morris College (joined in 1920 and now defunct), Northern Illinois Normal University (joined in 1922 and later re-named Northern Illinois University), Elmhurst College in 1925 and North Central (Ill.) College in 1927. Blackburn withdrew following the 1923 season, and Hedding College closed in 1927 and was subsequently bought out by Illinois Wesleyan.

Somewhere along the line, the IAC gained the nickname of the Little 19 Conference, even though the membership ranged from the high of 24 in the 1927-28 season schools to just five by the spring of 1942. Lincoln pulled out after 1928 spring season and subsequently shifted from a four-year school to a junior college. Lombard quit after 1929, and the school closed in 1930 and was taken over by Knox College. Mount Morris closed following the 1931-32 academic year. The conference really began to falter after the 1936-37 season when 12 schools withdrew to form the Illinois College Conference. Those 12 schools were Augustana, Bradley, Illinois College, Illinois Wesleyan, Knox, Lake Forest, McKendree, Millikin, Monmouth, North Central (Ill.), Shurtleff (closed after the 1956-57 academic year and absorbed by Southern Illinois University) and Wheaton. St. Viator closed in 1939, and Olivet Nazarene University took over its campus in 1947. Carthage, Elmhurst and Eureka withdrew from the IAC in December 1941, leaving only five schools: Eastern Illinois, Illinois State, Northern Illinois, Southern Illinois and Western Illinois.

In 1950, the league changed its name from the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference when Eastern Michigan University and Central Michigan University brought the membership to seven schools. Eastern Michigan and Southern Illinois both left after the 1961-62 academic year. Eastern Michigan went independent for several years before joining the Presidents' Athletic Conference for two seasons in 1964-65 and 1965-66. EMI returned to independent status for a time before joining the Mid-American Conference in 1971. EMU did not begin competing in MAC men's basketball until 1974-75 or in football until 1976.

Southern Illinois also played as an independent for several years before joining the Academic Athletic Conference of Midwestern Universities for two seasons beginning in 1970-71 and 1971-72. SIU returned to independent status for three seasons prior to joining the Missouri Valley Conference for men's basketball in 1975-76 and for football in 1977. The MVC dropped football as a conference sport in 1985, and SIU became a charter member of the Gateway Football Conference that same year, along with former Little 19 schools Eastern Illinois, Western Illinois and Illinois State. Northern Illinois left the IAC for the Mid-American Conference in 1966, dropping the league to four members.

YEAR-BY-YEAR SCORES

The final demise of the IAC came in 1969 when Illinois State left to join the Academic Athletic Conference of Midwestern Universities. Illinois State is now a member of the Missouri Valley conference. The remaining three IAC schools disbanded the league at the end of the 1969-70 academic year. Central Michigan joined the Mid-American Conference in 1971. Western Illinois was admitted to the Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU) in 1978-79 after eight years as an independent, and Eastern Illinois joined WIU in the AMCU in 1982-83 after 12 years as an independent. The AMCU changed its name to the Mid-Continent Conference in 1989-90 and to the Summit League in 2007-08. Among the other IAC members, seven later helped form the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin. Those seven were Augustana (Ill.), Carthage, Elmhurst, Illinois Wesleyan, Millikin, North Central (Ill.) and Wheaton (Ill.). Bradley is currently a member of the Missouri Valley Conference. Blackburn and Eureka are members of the St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Illinois College, Knox, Lake Forest and Monmouth are members of the Midwest Conference, although Illinois College and Lake Forest were once part of the CCIW. McKendree is an NAIA affiliate and a member of the American Midwest Conference, and Lincoln is now a two-year school and a member of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Radio station WCAZ, which originated as a Carthage College campus station during the 1921-22 academic year, broadcast a 1922 football game between Carthage and Culver-Stockton College, and that's believed to be the third-ever "live" voice-transmission broadcast of a college football game.

The earliest-known college football broadcasts were not relayed on radio in the traditional voice-broadcast manner, but rather in Morse code signals and subsequently "re-broadcast" by local announcers. The University of Minnesota pioneered this method from 1912-15, but the process ground to halt with World War I and its federal restrictions regarding amateur radio broadcasts. Texas A&M University's campus radio station, 5XB in College Station, Texas, which later became WTAW, was probably the second school to utilize the Morse-code system in its Nov. 24, 1921 broadcast of the Aggies' home game against the University of Texas.

Station KDKA in Pittsburgh, Pa., with announcer Harold Arlin, is thought to be the first station to broadcast a "live" voice-transmission broadcast of a college football game when it offered a University of Pittsburgh vs. West Virginia University game on either Oct. 8, 1921 KDKA repeated the process with another West Virginia-Pittsburgh game on Oct. 14, 1922. Sometime that same day, probably an hour or so later due to differing time zones, then-Carthage freshman Paul Ensrud, '26, handled the play-by-play of the Red Men's 20-0 win over Culver-Stockton, in Carthage, Ill. That game was carried on WCAZ, that, due to the paucity of radio stations at the time, was reportedly received in as many as 40 states.

Two weeks later, on October 28, a Princeton University-University of Chicago game was broadcast over WEAJ Radio (later WNBC Radio) in New York, N.Y. A University of Pennsylvania game in November 1922 versus an unknown opponent was broadcast on WIP Radio in Philadelphia, Pa., and that's thought to be the fifth live broadcast. WCAZ, first licensed by the Federal Radio Commission on May 5, 1922, was sold to a private investor in late-1929 and remains in operation today.

One of Art Keller's assistant coaches in the mid 1950s was Robert "Red" Miller (pictured above in light suit to the right of Keller). Miller, a native of Macomb, Ill., was named team MVP three straight years (1947-49) at Western Illinois University. He worked under Keller for three seasons (1955-57) before Lou Saban named Miller an assistant coach for the American Football League Boston Patriots in 1960. Miller subsequently served as an assistant with the Buffalo Bills, the Denver Broncos, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Baltimore Colts and the New England Patriots, before taking over head coaching duties for the Broncos in 1977. His first team in Denver, known at the time as the "Orange Crush," went 12-2 and lost to the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl XII. Miller was named "NFL Football Coach of the Year" by the Associated Press, United Press International and most of the football publications. He remained with the Broncos through the end of the 1980 season.

Following Carthage College's move from Carthage, Ill., to Kenosha, Wis., the 1964 football team played its home schedule at Kenosha's Lakefront Stadium (pictured above). That downtown facility at Lake Michigan near 58th Street is now the site of the Southport Marina. The 1965 team played its Oct. 2 home-opener versus Augustana (Ill.), as well as its Oct. 23 Homecoming date versus North Park, at Lakefront Stadium before opening what is now known as Art Keller Field, on the Carthage campus, with the Nov. 6 Illinois Wesleyan contest. The 1965 team is pictured above running onto the field at Lakefront Stadium. The building behind the concession stand is the old American Motors assembly plant, now the site of Harbor Park.

Carthage played a home-and-home series with Alma College in 1968 and 1969. Denny Stolz coached the Scots from 1965-70. Stolz was hired as head football coach at Michigan State University in 1973 and named "Big 10 Football Coach of the Year" in 1974. The Redmen's 19-7 win at Alma in 1969 snapped an 18-game Scots winning streak.

Carthage played its first post-season game on Nov. 27, 1971, when the Redmen played host to defending NAIA Division II national champion Westminster College (Pa.) in a semifinal game at Art Keller Field in Kenosha, Wis. With a game-time temperature reportedly at 13 degrees, Westminster led after three quarters, 21-20. Carthage's John Vitkus scored on a nine-yard run in the fourth quarter, and Curt Whipple's carry for the two-point conversion put the Redmen up, 28-21. Westminster quarterback Gene McNamara hooked up on a 16-yard touchdown pass to flanker Roger Price late in the game to knot the score at 28-28. That's the way the score stayed, but under NAIA playoff rules, Westminster was declared the winner based on the number of penetrations inside Carthage's 20-yard line.

Carthage's second NAIA post-season game was played on a mud-soaked field in Ripley, West. Va., on Nov. 25, 1973, versus Glenville State University in a national semifinal contest. The field conditions wreaked havoc with Carthage's triple option offense, and despite controlling the tempo of the game, the Redmen lost by a 14-7 margin. Glenville State scored on a pair of touchdown passes, one for 86 yards and the other for 46 yards. Carthage scored their only touchdown on a four-yard run by Dirk Hudson in the final minutes of the contest.

Carthage was re-admitted as an NCAA member in July 1976 after leaving the association in 1970. Carthage held dual membership in both the NCAA and the NAIA from 1952 to 1969. The College left the NCAA prior to the 1970 football season in order to qualify for the NAIA Football Championship, something the Redmen accomplished in both 1971 and 1973. Participation in the NAIA championship would have violated NCAA rules against playing in unsanctioned tournaments. When the Carthage re-joined the NCAA in 1976, the College became an NCAA Division III member.

Tailback Pete Baranek set both Carthage and CCIW records on Oct. 5, 1985, when he ran for 382 yards against North Central (Ill.). The mark was also an NCAA Division III record for eight years until Coe College's Carey Bender ran for 417 yards in 1993. Since then, three others have surpassed Baranek's mark, including Marietta College's Dante Brown, who set the current record with 441 yards in 1996. Baranek was originally credited with 370 yards, but was given an additional 12 yards following a review of game film and subsequent consultation with the NCAA Statistics Service. On the play in question, Baranek ran for nine yards and then fumbled the football. The ball rolled for an additional 12 yards before North Central (Ill.) recovered.
